THEY STARTED A BANK

But Was Not With Senator Clark's Money.

HAD ALL VOTED FOR HIM

TESTIMONY OF WITNESS BEFORE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE.

How Whiteside Made Boast That He Would "Job Clark to a Fare-you-well"—Why He Turned $30,000 in to Legislature—Could Make More Out of Daly.

Washington, Feb. 10.—State Senator Tierney of Montana continued his testimony in the Clark case before the senate committee on privileges and elections today. He said he had never been asked to support Mr. Clark for the senate, and, therefore, was never offered any consideration for his vote for that gentleman. The details of the organization of the Townsend bank, in which he had money, were explained, and how he had money in it.

Mr. Tierney said the $3,800 which he put into the organization of the new bank at Townsend had been kept in the safe of Darsey & Co., where it had been put in preference to putting it in the bank of Hyatt & Delanty, the only bank then existing at Townsend. Of the $3,800 drawn out in this transaction, not to exceed $2,000 had been entered upon the books of the firm. He had taken it out because it was his. Very often, however, these deposits were put into the general cash fund of the firm.

In response to a question from Senator Chandler, the witness said that notwithstanding he knew there were aspersions cast upon his character because of his vote for Mr. Clark, he had brought no paper of any kind to Washington with him to show where the $3,800 used in organizing the Townsend bank had come from.

Al Supported Clark.

The questioning brought out the fact that both Eversoll and Representative Sheveley, who, together with Mr. Tierney, constituted the whole legislative delegation from Broadwater county, were stockholders in the new Townsend bank. Of the entire $35,000 capital, Mr. Tierney testified that himself and relatives and business associates had contributed about $15,000. Messrs. Eversoll and Sheveley each having $1,000.

The organization had been canvassed two years previous to the time of its actual organization, but the idea had not been put into execution because of the difficulty of getting the money together. Some of the money put in by his relatives had been brought from the east. All the members of the legislature who were in the bank, in the end voted for Mr. Clark for the senate.

William Berne, a ranchman of Columbia Falls, who said he had formerly worked in one of Mr. Daly's mines at Butte, testified to being sent by men connected with Mr. Daly to Flathead county during the legislative election of 1898, to assist Mr. Whiteside in his race for the state senate. On the train out from Columbia Falls he said he had a talk with Whiteside, and the latter told him that Senator Clark had sent money into the county to be used against him, adding: "He would get even with Clark if it ever came in his way, for bucking him in his election."

Would Job Clark.

Mr. Whiteside had said he would "job Clark to a fare-you-well." Again, in Helena, after the legislature met, he asked Whiteside for some money. "Whiteside replied," said the witness, "that he had only $7, though a few weeks before he had had $30,000 in his pockets, but that as it had not been his, he turned it over to the state. He said he had been offered $100,000 to leave the town."

"I told him," continued the witness, "that he was a d-d fool for not keeping the money, but he replied that he could make more out of the other side—out of Daly—by turning the money over."

On a cross-examination the witness said he had thought that Whiteside had meant that he could not only get the $100,000 for leaving, but he could also keep the $30,000. He added that Mr. Whiteside had loaned him $5 of the $7 he had on hand, and that he had paid the amount back. Adjourned until Monday.

SUPREME COURT OPINION.

Unconscionable Loan Contract Held to Be Not Enforceable.

An opinion was delivered by the supreme court yesterday in the case of Thomas F. Howells, plaintiff and respondent, against the Pacific States Savings, Loan & Building company, appellant, affirming the decision of Judge Hiles in holding that the loan contract between the parties was an unconscionable transaction, and one that should not be enforced according to its terms in any other manner than as a simple mortgage loan agreement. The decision affects several other cases of a similar nature now pending in the supreme court, and the same decision will follow.

The plaintiff sued for cancellation of a mortgage of $1,500, which had been fully paid, and for the recovery of $220 overpaid in monthly installments. The defendant company answered and alleged that $689.35, together with interest and attorneys' fees, remained to be paid. Judgment was rendered in the trial court for the amount of plaintiff's demand, including a decree for the cancellation of the mortgage.

Holding that the amount claimed to be due to it was in the nature of fines upon the loan, the defendant company appealed.

In deciding the issues the supreme court opinion states that the decree of the trial court was correctly rendered, since from the peculiar facts disclosed by the record and the unconscionable character of the stipulations of the bond and mortgage contract, the enforcement of the agreement as contended by the company would be contrary to law and the principles of justice.
